Six Million In Shanghai Await Control Policy

Expect Newly Installed Communist Control Committee To Outline Policy

NATIONALIST TROOPS REPORTED STRANDED

By STANLEY ALBERTO (I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, May 28.—Six million residents of sprawling Shanghai today awaited a declaration of policy from a newly-installed Communist "military control committee."

Reliable reports say the committee is headed by Gen. Chen Yi who commanded the Communist forces which successfully drove the Nationalists from China's greatest—and the world's fourth largest—city.

(Reports from Hong Kong said that a five-man delegation of the Nationalist Kuomintang party has flown to the Island of Formosa to persuade retired Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek to resume leadership of the tottering Canton Nationalist government.

The British Hong Kong government announced that from June 1 on, an eight-hour nightly curfew will be imposed in the territories adjacent to the Crown colony which Britain has leased from China.)

Mopping Up Operations

A Communist broadcast from Peiping, meanwhile, told of mopping up operations by Communist forces north of Shanghai. There has been no accurate estimate of the number of government troops stranded between Shanghai and the escape port of Woosung, ten miles to the north.

But unofficial reports have placed the figure as high as 150,000. The broadcast said that 10,000 Nationalists surrendered yesterday, while 20,000 were said to have

PRA Predicts New State Tax Burden If Housing Bill Passes

Predicts Tax Burden Of 40 Years If Congress Passes Federal Housing Program

HARRISBURG, May 28.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Realtors Association today claimed that Pennsylvania residents will be forced to shoulder an additional tax burden for 40 years if congress approves the pending federal public housing program.

Oscar B. Quinto, of Philadelphia, association president, contended the housing measure "would abandon for the first time in the history of our country the constitutional control by congress over expenditures from the federal treasury".

"It would make billions of dollars available year after year without further authorization by the present or any succeeding congress," he declared.

The proposed $19,000,000,000 commitment, payable until 1990 under the bill, could be used by any housing administrator with the United States government pledged to pay on demand".

Quinto claimed that the huge public housing expenditure "would be virtually useless because public housing will not solve the problem as quickly as private enterprise". Approximately 200,000 dwellings would be erected each year under the federal program, compared to more than 1,000,000 units built by private enterprise last year, he said.

RAIL TRAFFIC INTO BERLIN AGAIN HALTED

of their non-Communist independent union.

Western Berlin's subsistence depended once again on the efforts of the airlift which sustained the western sectors for 10 months during the blockade.

The planes are operating at peak levels to haul in an approximately 8,000 tons of supplies daily.

Meanwhile, the Soviets attempted to "pass the buck" for the rail congestion to the strikers, saying that the railwaymen refuse to accept the trains once they reach Berlin's outskirts.

The strikers replied that they were ejected from the signal box and switching posts when they attempted to man the trains and the right-of-way.

Now, they insist, the western allies must intervene and give them complete control of rail operations in west Berlin.

Death Rate For

Tuberculosis In

State Decreases

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—(INS)—Reports to the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society at its annual meeting in Pittsburgh showed today that the death rate from the disease decreased 23 per cent in Pennsylvania in the past five years.

At the same time, the group heard a less encouraging report that nearly 600 persons are on waiting lists to get hospital care because there are not enough beds to take care of them.

Other obstacles hindering the drive to wipe out the disease in the state are a shortage of nurses and medical personnel, and a reluctance on the part of some hospitals to take patients very ill with tuberculosis.

The group was told, however, that mass X-ray surveys are proving valuable in detecting early cases.

A total of 551,657 persons in Pennsylvania were X-rayed last year.

Dr. C. Howard March, medical director of the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis hospital, and Dr. George I. Martin, clinical director of the Norristown State hospital, will address the closing luncheon meeting today.

Speakers yesterday included Dr. M. C. Stayer, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Tuberculosis Control; Arthur M. Dewees, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, and Dr. Katherine R. Boucot, of Philadelphia.

Col. Robert Hyland, Ripley's business manager said burial probably will be at Santa Rosa, Calif., where Ripley was born.

Hyland said, however, final arrangements will await the decision of Ripley's sister, Mrs. Ethel Davis.

State Police Warn Drivers

Officer in charge of the local substation of the State police stated that, beginning today, state police will be on continuous duty until early Tuesday morning, alert for violators of traffic regulations in an effort to prevent speeders and reckless motor car operators from causing grief today, Sunday and Memorial day.

He issued some "Dont's" as follows:

Don't drink and drive.
Don't speed.
Don't drive recklessly.
Don't make bad passes.
Don't cut in and out.
Don't run out of line at the top of a hill.
Don't park your car on the highway.
Don't fail to stop and reveal your identity in case of accident.
Don't drive too fast for road conditions.

Don't drive so slow traffic will be held back, but keep within the limit.

"State police will be on constant duty from now until Tuesday morning. Motorists are expected to drive safely because traffic will be exceptionally heavy," the officer-in-charge advised.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Coeds with plaid feet are on the fashion curriculum for next fall.

Shoe designers revealed today that the latest college fad is a plaid corduroy shoe with a crepe sole!

Young ladies who want to be prolific in plaid can buy skirts, jackets, handbags and hats to match. The skirts are full jackets slender, handbags small and hats many-styled.

Plaid corduroy headgear includes mostly crushed-crown styles that frame the face, and tiny cloches that tie on under the chin.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

"It aint no use to grumble or complain, it's just as cheap an' easy to rejoice. When God sorts out the weather and sends rain, why, rain's my choice."

James Whitcomb Riley was able to put things just about right.

A lot of things we worry about never happen. There is no use worrying about what has happened.

Worrying will not help what is going to happen. What else is there to worry about?

Doctors say that worry and fear and rage have something to do with the blood pressure and are not very helpful in keeping it down.

Some of them say that a real good wine helps some. Tell it to the merinos.

Withholding tax would be doubled to tax off the debt.

Representative Dondero calls the system a "billion-dollar swindle."

A private insurance corporation, under federal law and the laws of most states, must carry actual cash reserves sufficient to meet any reasonable demand. Officers of such corporations, if they dipped into the reserves and used them to pay current expenses unrelated to the demands of policy holders, would not only lose their licenses, but would be subject to fine and imprisonment.

Now the administration is planning to multiply the hocus-pocus by a "grade-to-the-grave" security program which would put more and more billions into a security fund, to be subjected to the same policy of plunder as the present system.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1949

Words are inadequate to express what is in the hearts of Americans on Memorial Day. The nation finds its necessary to turn to symbols to express its homage to those who offered their lives that this nation might live to advance the cause of freedom and human dignity. So men in uniform march, rifles crash out their volleys, and the notes of "Taps" bless the flower-strewn graves of the hero dead.

It is a ritual hallowed by time and custom and richer with meaning today than ever in the past. As tribute is paid to the men of wars fought long ago, and of the recent conflict, the hope for enduring peace is not bright.

It is a long list, that of the battlefields of the revolution, of the War of 1812, of the Mexican War, of the Indian wars, of the Civil War, of the Spanish-American War and of World War I and World War II.

Words are not enough to express what is in the hearts of the American people on Memorial Day. Nor are symbols enough. Only with work and sacrifice to safeguard what the nation's heroes so valiantly protected can we hope to prove our pride and gratitude—hope to deserve in some small part the offerings freely made in our behalf.

NO REASON WHY 250 MUST DIE

There is an unfortunate note of inevitability in the prediction by experts that 250 persons will perish and 25 times that number will be crippled on the Nation's highways during the Memorial Day week-end that gets underway this afternoon.

The fact is that Death has not yet put his ghoulish mark on any individual. His awful selection will be made in the split second between the time a driver relaxes his caution and the resultant crash.

The driver who speeds, who recklessly attempts to pass other cars when a clear view of the road ahead is obscured by a curve or a hill or who takes the wheel while too sleepy to give complete attention to the serious business at hand invites death's attention.

By giving extraordinary care to his driving any individual motorist can reduce to the minimum the probability that he or his companions will end their holiday outing either in a hospital or a morgue. Most accidents, are avoidable.

It's a safe assumption that all the drivers whose impatience, carelessness and lack of consideration of the rights of others will result in accidents this week-end are aware of unusual dangers of travel and are familiar with specific suggestions for safe driving such as those advanced by the National Safety Council and other agencies.

Human factors, including selfishness, poor judgment and downright boorishness, will be the fundamental causes of a large majority of holiday highway tragedies.

The toll of dead and injured which will be written during the next four days will be determined by the willingness of individual drivers to control their human failings and cooperate in making the holiday safe.

There is no reason why 250 must die. There is no reason the experts must be right. Help prove them wrong.

FEDERAL EMPLOYES

Economy-in-Government drives take many forms in Congress, but one is perennial—reduction in the number of federal employees.

Its chief spokesman for years has been Sen. Byrd (D., Va.), chairman of the Joint Committee on Nonessential Expenditures. Byrd stated last week that "bureaucracy is out of control with respect to personnel," and proposed in a formal report that Congress separate at least 500,000 employees from the government payroll in the coming fiscal year.

There were 2,102,043 federal employees, inside and outside the United States, on March 31, 1949, according to the latest available report of the Civil Service Commission. Of this total, only 214,035, or about 10 per cent, held jobs in Washington—contrary to a widely-held concept of topheavy concentration of Government job-holders in the Capital.

In the six defense and war years, June 1938-June 1945, the Government's federal civilian force quadrupled, from a total in 1939 of 968,596 to 3,769,646 at the wartime peak in June, 1945.

The increase of civilian employees in the War and Navy departments accounted for 86 per cent of the total increases. Persons employed in emergency war agencies, none of which existed in 1939, accounted for another 6 per cent. The balance of 231,328, or 8 per cent, was additional personnel needed by old line or regular agencies.

Some are too busy to go back to the old home town; some are ashamed to go; and some don't dare to go.

The government spent 18 weeks proving the Communists are up to no good. The average Communist can prove that in five minutes.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The international sparring-match known officially as the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Conference neared the end of its first week's deliberations with only one thing definite and apparent.

This is the now unquestioned ability of new U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson to match wits with the most agile diplomatic minds in the world.

And while some of the original optimism over the session has worn off, there are at least continued indications that the western powers will bring from stubborn Soviet Russia limited agreement for permanent solution of the Berlin problem which may pave the way for Germany's political and economic union in the future.

Skilled Performance.

Observers at the "Pink Palace" in Paris have expressed gratification over the skilled manner with which Acheson has presented the allied viewpoint.

He is far younger in years and from the viewpoint of hard political experience than either British Foreign Secretary Bevin or French Foreign Minister Schuman.

Yet in the early stages of the conference the other western delegates seemed automatically to look to him for presentation of their arguments.

Bevin and Schuman have said comparatively little, usually merely nodding assent every time that Acheson has put across a cold and scientific discourse to show why Soviet Russia had failed in Germany and the Allies have succeeded.

Vishinsky Affable.

A notable aspect of the affair thus far is that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky has lost none of the affability with which he began the conference.

This undoubtedly is a tribute to Acheson's smooth diplomatic approach.

Bevin is inclined to rough, heavy-handed sarcasm. Whenever he has indulged in it at international gatherings in the past, Vishinsky has whipped back with violent invective that at times has descended to the level of a street-corner argument.

One of Acheson's cardinal points seems to be an ability to put something across by shrewd inference.

In describing the manner in which the Allies are rebuilding western Germany and restoring its economy by sacrifices of their own,

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW TO GAIN CHILD'S CO-OPERATION

The more we live more brief appears each life's succeeding stages

"A day to childhood seems a year, and years like passing ages."

As a nine-year-old child his age and he won't say he is nine. He will say, "I'm going on ten."

About the most powerful and persistent wish the young child has is to be older and more grown-up than he is. In this urge we parents have a powerful lever for motivating the youngster to grow in self-control and self-reliance and to acquire good manners. The wise parent uses this to cultivate all sorts of desirable behavior in the child. If it she may also help him correct tantrums, whining and crying, thumb-sucking, late clothes wetting, certain bad manners and the like.

Use Positive Appeal.

But this appeal so often seems to fail. The reason is that the mother making the "big boy" or "big girl" appeal also uses the opposite, calling the child at four, six, ten or 13 a baby when he seems to act infantile. The temptation to do so is very strong, and the average parent is inclined more often than the positive appeal, just as she is also inclined to rebuke more often than to praise.

If you sense virtue in appealing to the child's strong urge to feel big, you will try hard to avoid ever shaming him for "acting like a baby" even when he does. When the youngster first succeeds at taking off part or all his clothes at bedtime, and, later, at putting on part or all of them in the morning, you should marvel at how big he is; so also when he cooperates at toilet training, washing himself and bathing himself.

Younger Child.

But there may come a time when he won't choose to do for himself nearly as much as he used to do, especially if there is a younger child you must care for almost entirely. Being annoyed, you will incline to tell this older child of things the baby can do better than he can. All backslding as of clothes-wetting, thumb-sucking, or undressiness at the table will tempt you to tell this older child how babyish he has been. You just need to watch yourself here and guard your tongue. Try to set the stage so he will cooperate more often, so you can celebrate his success and tell him how big he is. In such matters as his backslding at self-dressing you should sometimes help him just enough to restore his old good habits.

One of the children's magazines has been appealing directly to the child to motivate self-reliance and good manners, through his wish to be big. For example, there is a picture of a child about one year old being dressed by his mother. Under this picture is the statement: "When I was very young my mother had to dress me." Next appears a picture of this same child at five and under it the statement: "Now I am big."

It is rather easy for the child to see early that having good manners makes him seem grown-up and makes him more likable not only among adults but also among other children of his own age. I have a special bulletin addressed directly to the child, "Good Manners Make You Likable" (to be had in a stamped envelope) sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Some are too busy to go back to the old home town; some are ashamed to go; and some don't dare to go.

The government spent 18 weeks proving the Communists are up to no good. The average Communist can prove that in five minutes.

The old timer who always watched for the first robin in the spring now has a son who always watches for the first girl in a sun suit.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has been making faces at the teacher for some little time and now he wants us to lend him twenty million dollars for being a naughty boy.

Acheson said what amounted to this:

"Perhaps eastern Germany is healthy and prosperous even though the Russians are taking out far more than we put in. But we don't know. You will not or cannot give us any figures. Without such information we cannot plan for the future."

Could Do One of Two Things.

Vishinsky could do one of two things. He could supply figures, which in all probability would show eastern Germany heavily in the red, or he could maintain his composure and seek to make a good case for Russia's desire that Allied four-power control council rule of Germany be restored.

Up until now, he has chosen the second course.

In addition to Acheson's attainment of stature, the conference seems to display a definite Soviet regret that lack of cooperation destroyed the four-power rule.

Certainly it started off well in those early days of 1945 and 1946 when the four powers worked with the same team spirit as during the war, made constant mutual concessions and seemed to understand one another's viewpoint.

The deterioration since that came must have convinced Vishinsky that the Russians have been playing a losing game. They have lost popularity with the German people; they have thrown away any opportunity of participating in administration of the rich Ruhr Valley.

Most important of all, their tactics compelled the western Allies to go on the offensive and Vishinsky realizes that if this four-power meeting breaks up, there may never be another. Dean Acheson seems to have made Andrei Vishinsky deeply conscious of his responsibility toward Europe and his country.

This undoubtedly is a tribute to Acheson's smooth diplomatic approach.

Bevin is inclined to rough, heavy-handed sarcasm. Whenever he has indulged in it at international gatherings in the past, Vishinsky has whipped back with violent invective that at times has descended to the level of a street-corner argument.

One of Acheson's cardinal points seems to be an ability to put something across by shrewd inference.

In describing the manner in which the Allies are rebuilding western Germany and restoring its economy by sacrifices of their own,

If I did not know that "Hank Hayseed," who writes a local column for the Waynesboro, Pa., Record Herald, is a fine young fellow, I'd swear that he is playing a trick on me to have me put in jail and thus hope to take my place on the editorial page.

I did not know that "Hank Hayseed," who writes a local column for the Waynesboro, Pa., Record Herald, is a fine young fellow, I'd swear that he is playing a trick on me to have me put in jail and thus hope to take my place on the editorial page.

He considers me an authority on ailments, he said, and he is sure that I can help him.

Hank knows darn well that I am no physician and that practicing medicine without a license is a criminal offense.

That is a nice way to get a competitor out of the way?

It seems that Hank is much troubled with the sacroiliac thing and went to several doctors to get relief.

One of them told him not to sleep on a soft mattress but to get himself a bed-board instead.

Hank's wife, apparently having more sense than he, (just as most wives have more sense than their husbands) figured out a much better use for the board than to cure sacroiliac trouble.

She hacked the thing up into several pieces, used part of it for a breadboard, and with the other pieces nailed up mouseholes and did several other jobs around the house.

Then she took Hank's mattress, put it on the floor and told him that the floor was just as good as a bed-board.

But, being used to a bed, Hank awoke one night stepped down as he thought, on the floor, and, to use his own words, "My heel clunked on the hardwood floor. Not only do I have sacroiliac pains now, I also have a useless right foot."

Which reminds me of a story "Bugs" Baer told me and which he swears is true.

He had trouble with his eyes. They caused him headaches and dizzy spells and his eyesight went back on him.

So he went to a doctor.

The doctor examined him carefully and then told him that the seat of the trouble was not in his eyes but in his prostate gland.

He recommended a slight operation.

Bugs had the operation and now he can read better than ever. His eyesight is perfect again, he says.

Of course, you have all heard the story about the fellow who went to his physician because his left ear hurt him.

"Step into the next room," said the medicos, "and get completely undressed."

The patient did, and told another fellow who sat there, stark naked, that he couldn't understand why he should get undressed when his ear hurt him.

"You should kick," said the other fellow. "I just came in to deliver a Western Union telegram, and I've been sitting here for two hours without a stitch of clothes on me."

Now, Hank, go ahead and put me in jail.

May we think clearly about the 30th of May . . . what does it mean . . . Memorial Day?

They are forever dead, our sons who fought in glory,
Who gave their lives for liberty and truth;
They shall never be an immortal story,
But a vain, hopeless sacrifice of youth:

Unless we build a peace as enduring as sun and stars,
Forgotten with the fearful, useless cost,
In the dim pages of history's futile wars,
Their memories will be forever lost.

Only in the secret chamber of her anguished heart,
Where a mother mourns her gallant son,
Is a lasting memorial set apart.

After all the glory and the songs are done.

WHY CATHOLICS "Keep Running to Church"

You've probably heard people comment at times on the fact that their Catholic neighbors go to church so often. Perhaps you have wondered yourself . . . is all this necessary?

Catholics, you may be sure, have good reasons.

Going to Mass on Sunday is, of course, an obligation for every Catholic. Confession and Holy Communion at least once a year are a sacred duty. But most Catholics go to Confession and receive Holy Communion oftener . . . some every month, some every week, some every day.

There are also many other special services and devotions for which Catholics go to church. In the average city, the Catholic Church is always open—and seldom empty. Many will enter the church at any hour of the day to visit Jesus Christ present on the altar, mindful of His invitation, "Come to Me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."

But, you ask, is all this necessary? Catholics believe it is. They believe that Christ not only called upon us to honor and serve God . . . but prescribed the ways in which we should do so. He did not say how often we must go to church . . . nor how many prayers we were to recite. But He did establish a Church with the power and authority to carry on His work . . . and He promised that His Church would last to the end of time—that it would have God's protection in teaching all men to observe all things. He had commanded, especially to believe and to be baptized and thereby become members of His Church to attain the purpose of their lives.

And how do Catholics know theirs is Christ's Church?

Because it possesses the distinguishing marks Christ gave His Church. It covers the earth as Christ said it would. Unchanged after nearly 2,000 years, it continues to live and grow, in fulfillment of His promise that His Church would last to the end of the world.

But the most convincing mark that He gave it is its unity of faith, worship and obedience under the authority of the lawful and historical successor of Peter, the first Bishop of Rome and the "rock" upon which Christ built His Church. Just as Peter was the first Pope and the first Vicar of Christ, so also is Pius XII the 262nd Pope and the Vicar of Christ today.

If you would like to know more about the distinguishing characteristics which Christ declared His Church must have and which the Catholic Church possesses today, we'll be happy to send you without cost or obligation an interesting and enlightening pamphlet. Write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. 2-N.

MODULAR COORDINATION—A far-reaching plan for coordinating the dimensions of materials so that they can be combined into a finished structure with a minimum of waste from cutting and fitting, is the basic principle utilized.

MODULAR PARTITIONS are pre-built (not sectional) but full size, using standard size lumber on 16-inch centers. They are set into place without difficulties.

STANDARDIZING with Modular Coordination is the answer.

Would Cost State Taxpayers $2.05
For Each Dollar Spent In School Subsidies

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(INS)—A spokesman for the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce today claimed $2.05 to education would cost Pennsylvania taxpayers $2.05 for each dollar spent in state.

Pennsylvania's share of the cost in taxes of the government's proposed $300,000,000 aid to education bill "would amount to approximately $21,000,000," according to Warren C. Bulette, of York, told the House Education Committee. The school aid bill passed the Senate and is waiting action in the House where a similar measure stalled last year.

"We would, on the other hand, receive from the federal government less than half that amount in aid, or about $10,000,000," Bulette declared.

"Only 17 states would receive aid benefits in an amount greater than their proportionate cost of the program," he said.

He will leave New York on June 7 and fly to Paris, where he will sit in with the American delegation at the council of foreign ministers.

King conferred with Mr. Truman for about half an hour. Asked if he was carrying any special instructions with him to Moscow, the admiral said:

"Just general instructions."

Memorial Day

CARBONDALE, Ill., May 28.—(INS)—Citizens of Carbondale, Ill., will observe Memorial Day in the cemetery where the custom is believed to have begun.

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will dedicate a bronze plaque celebrating the Woodlawn cemetery as the site of the first Memorial Day ceremony.

The citizens base their contention on a photostatic copy of a page on an old family Bible containing a memorandum of a celebration held in 1866 by Gen. John A. Logan at the Woodlawn cemetery.

The memorandum shows that Logan, who two years later issued his famous order No. 11 establishing May 30 as a national holiday, spoke to a group of Civil war veterans on a Memorial Day theme.

Congressman Seeks Swift Action On Barred Aliens Bill

Bill Would Bar Undesirable Aliens
Like Eisler From Deportation
Offenses

WASHINGTON, May 28—(INS)—Rep. Walter (D) Pa., said today he will seek swift action on a bill which would bar "undesirable aliens like Gerhardt Eisler" from freedom on bail while awaiting deportation.

Walter said the House judiciary subcommittee which he heads will approve the bill next Wednesday. The Pennsylvanian, who also is a member of the House un-American Activities Committee, declared that the British court was "entirely correct" in refusing to order Eisler's return to the United States. He said:

"From my general knowledge of the law, I don't see how any other decision could have been reached. The offenses with which Eisler was charged are not extraditable even in some of our own states."

RUNS AGAINST AUTO

Robert O'Laughlin, 1042 Beckford street, reported to police at 7:50 p. m., Friday, that Herman Wallace, youth, Moravia street, ran against the side of his car, which he stopped in East Lincoln avenue. A group of boys were playing, and O'Laughlin sounded his auto horn, then stopped his car, following which the accident occurred. The youth sustained scratches.

NBA Reinstates Rocky Graziano

Graziano Now Cleared For Fight Action, Gets Offer
Of $50,000 To Meet
Fusari

PATTERSON, N. J., May 28.—(INS)—Rocky Graziano was reinstated Friday by the National Boxing Association.

The New York middleweight received an offer of $50,000 to meet Charley Fusari in a 10-round bout at the Newark, N. J., ball park, July 18.

Fusari, guaranteed the same amount by Promoter Angelo Pucci, accepted at once.

Graziano recently was reinstated by the New York Boxing Commission which had suspended him for failure to disclose a bribe offer for a fight which was never held.

Big Drawing Card
He was suspended by the NBA for running out on a match with Fred Apostoli in California. NBA Commissioner Abe Greene said today Rocky was reinstated after he had made good the losses incurred by the California promoter.

The Newark promoter believes a Fusari-Graziano bout might surpass the Graziano-Tony Zale fight in Newark a year ago which grossed over $400,000.

Graziano is regarded as the biggest drawing card in boxing today and Fusari has a large following due to his recent one-round knockout over Vince Foster in Madison Square Garden.

Special Events At Midget Races

CANFIELD, O., May 28.—The special events program of midget auto races, which will be held at the Canfield Speedway tonight, will include two big feature events of 20 laps each, and will probably be won by one of the dark horses of midget auto racing. Canfield is the track of surprises as the competition here is very close and no one car or driver dominates the field.

Gates to the speedway tonight will open at 6:30, time trials at 8:30 P.M. Reserve seat tickets for the Canfield gold cup classic will be secured tonight at the track. Monday, Memorial Day, at noon, 5,000 general admission seats will go on sale at $2. The semi-feature for non-qualifiers for the gold cup classic will get the green flag promptly at 3 p.m. DST.

Irishman Leads Willie Turnesa

American Golf Star Four Down At End Of First
18 In Championship
Match

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, May 28.—(INS)—Big Sam McCready, a native son, held a four up lead over Wee Willie Turnesa, U. S. Amateur golf champion, at the end of the morning round in the 36-hole final for the British Amateur title today.

Irish eyes were smiling as galleryites and the two players adjourned for lunch with all save one convinced that an Irishman will win the title on the only occasion it has ever been at stake on Irish soil.

Wobbly Putting

The one dissenter was the easy-going Italian-American who had bounded back from seeming defeat in major championships before and come on to victory.

Turnesa, 1947 holder of this crown, again was harassed by off-line tee shots and by streaks of wobbly putting as the former RAF fighter pilot went three up on the first nine and made it four up at the end of the 18.

Brown Trout For Little Neshannock

Herman Steinbrink, president, Lawrence County Sportsman's association, today announced receipt of word from the fish commission of the state that 800 brown trout for the Little Neshannock creek, Mercer county, will arrive at New Wilmington post office at 11 a.m. June 1.

He also reported 3400 brown trout will arrive also for the Little Neshannock at 11 a.m. at New Wilmington post office.

Dodgers And Braves Tied For Lead In National League Race Today

Preacher Roe Hurls Shutout

Roe Has Beaten Braves Twice This Year, Cardinals Edge Pirates 2 To 1

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 28.—If the National league pennant race eventually resolves itself into a duel between Brooklyn and Boston and the Dodgers win out, they probably will have Preacher Roe to thank for it.

The Brooks lost the pennant last season because they had no luck against the Braves. They have beaten the Bostonians only twice this year, and both wins have been scored by Roe. Thanks to the skinny southpaw, the Dodgers are tied with Boston for first place.

Roe Blanks Braves

Roe blanked the Braves 4 to 0 last night. The Brooks gave Johnny Sain his lumps in the seventh inning when they scored all their runs. Carl Furillo knocked in the first tally and Spider Jorgensen drove in the other three with a base-clearing double.

The New York Giants lost to the Phillips, 9 to 3, and dropped from second place to third. Clint Hartung failed the New Yorkers on the mound again.

Pittsburgh's Murry Dickson tried hard against his old playmates, the St. Louis Cardinals, but Al Brazle beat him 2 to 1.

Eddie Kazak's homer gave the Cards their runs.

In the only daytime game played in the majors, Johnny Schmitz of the Chicago Cubs regained his lost skill and ran the winning streak of the Bruins to three games by holding the Cincinnati Reds to five hits and downing them 3 to 1.

Yanks Beat Macks

In the American league, Philadelphia's Ed Coleman held the New York Yankees to five hits but homers by Tommy Henrich and Yogi Berra beat him, 3 to 1. Ed Lopat of the Yanks scored his fifth win of the season without a defeat.

The pace-setting Yankees, who have won 14 out of 16 in their own ball park and their last five starts, increased their lead over the second-place A's to 4½ games.

Virgil Trucks of the Detroit Tigers decided the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4, and the Cleveland's Al Benton downed the Chicago White Sox 4 to 0.

Washington and the Boston Red Sox were rained out.

"The Four Horsemen"

It was a bad day for the Irish when Notre Dame met Army at Yankee Stadium in November 1945 . . . but it was a nice day for the crowd of 76,000 who saw the "Four Horsemen" . . . Felix Blanchard, Glenn Davis, Tommy McWilliams and Clyde Grinsteine, riding over the field to score a total of 7 touchdowns for the soldier boys from West Point.

The Notre Dame "Green Shirts" came on the field at game time with high hopes of beating Army. Although they worked like beavers, they were washed out by a score of 48-0. Those soldier boys had certainly passed their "physical". They seemed to pass right through the "Sons of Erin" when ever they met. Army gained 294 yards running and 148 yards passing, as against 143 and 86 for Notre Dame.

Although Army won, they were frequently penalized during the game, in fact they drew a total of 121 yards punishment.

Glenn Davis, the California antelope, accounted for 3 of the soldiers 7 touchdowns. Blanchard was next with 2 and McWilliams and Grinsteine split the honors on the other 2 scored.

You will "score a touchdown" when you make the Winter Company the focal point of style in selecting your dress-gives new wear, newest designs, color patterns and fabrics. Pick yours to compliment one of our new tropical wear.

Remember Sandy McPherson He May Be Champ Some Day

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 28.—One of the strangest experiments since the fellow sat down to work out the atomic bomb is being conducted by Harry Lenny and associates.

Harry Lenny is the well-known polisher of polished diamonds in the rough. He takes a big stumble but who doesn't know how to get his hands up and makes a fighter out of him.

How many of these travesties Lenny has created in his long career would require a lot of figuring to get an answer, but he has committed his share of this nefarious sort of business.

His current experiment is one of the strangest of them all. He is going to attempt to make a fighter out of a gigantic black man named Sandy McPherson.

Awful Decisions

McPherson, up to now, has shown a disinclination to whip anybody, if you look at his record. But Lenny is not only a fight manager, but a horse player besides, and there never was a horse player who doesn't have excuses for his misfortune. Lenny can explain every single one of Sandy McPherson's setbacks.

I don't remember how it goes exactly, but McPherson's last three losses in a row were downright awful decisions—even worse than the men he was fighting, says Lenny.

Want Title Shot

Lenny is going up to Leiper ville, Pa., for a few weeks of private training with Sandy, then he's going to hit the tank towns and take a good fast hustle at the heavyweight title. Go ahead and don't believe it but that is what the script says.

He says he is going down to the boxing commission and post a forfeit to clinch a shot at the championship.

That sounds like a way to get some quick and easy attention for a fellow like Sandy McPherson, but what tickles me about it is that it is going to be awfully hard to figure out who the heavyweight champion is for the next few years.

Nothing To Lose

Anyway, Lenny, who handled Jack Delany, among others, and who is a Philadelphia welter fought heavyweights back there in the old days, seems to figure that with the kind of clowns around now he has nothing to lose but his time.

He pointed out that he has been losing that for years poring over scratch sheets trying to pick a winner and teaching big oafs to box in hopes of getting a champion.

McPherson has several strikes against him as he gets ready to go to bat for Lenny. In the first place he can't fight, but beyond that he was shot through a knuckle bone on his left hand during the war and suffered a bayonet slash, says Lenny.

Lenny says those are minor drawbacks.

TIGERS TAKE FORFEIT

The Shadydale Tigers are claiming a forfeit over the National Guards last night for failure to show up for a city Softball league game.

Freddie Mills of London, world's light heavyweight boxing champion, won't defend his title Aug. 19 in Toledo against aging Archie Moore.

STEELERS-CARDINALS ARRANGE EXHIBITION

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers announced today the scheduling of an exhibition night game with the Chicago Cardinals at Forbes Field September 14.

Steeler officials said the game would be sponsored by the Dapper Dan Club of Pittsburgh which will give its share of the proceeds to the Pittsburgh Catholic Palestra Foundation.

Edward F. Farrell, 33, of Catawissa, Windber High school grid coach for the past three years and one time Pittsburgh Steeler back field man, has taken over the reins as head mentor at Dunbar High school near Connellsville.

Nicholas Macaluso, twelve-year old sharpshooter from Mt. Jackson, was proclaimed king of Lawrence county marble players last night at the Optimist club tournament at Ben Franklin Junior High gym.

Macaluso had won over 62 players in a tournament in his own school previously. Last night he played five matches with as many as eight games per match. It was almost as much an endurance contest as a marble tourney.

The new king will attend the national tournament in Asbury Park, N. J., June 19-24 as part of his prize. He has already received a nice plaque, ensignia jacket, and will be a guest at a Pirate game in Pittsburgh.

Hollywood Finish

Macaluso won over Harry Albert Passerello of Pollock Avenue school in the finals. The match was a best out of nine series. Each man won three games and then each won four. In the last match, each had pocketed six marbles and the last match rested on the winner of the one marble. Macaluso, of course, won in the Hollywood finish.

The runner-up will also receive a trip to Pittsburgh as well as a jacket, Joseph Scungio, the quarter finalist from Rose avenue will be a third member of the Pittsburgh party.

Twenty-five boys competed last night for the crown. They represented 25 different schools and almost a thousand boys who had participated in their own school tournament.

All contestants received an Optimist Club emblem.

Harold Boak and Martin Leonhardt took charge of the successful tournament for the Optimists. President Carl Anderson presented the awards at the conclusion of the tourney.

The game starts at 8 o'clock, and is a regularly scheduled league contest.

The Buckeyes were the American league champions last year. Both teams have a galaxy of stars in their lineups. The admission is $1.00, for any seat in the park.

This is one of the finest attractions booked here for this summer.

West Deer Trounces Local Champs 11 To 0 In New Kensington Friday

Shenango High School lost its first round playoff 11 to 0 to West Deer in a WPIAL elimination game at New Kensington Friday.

The Wildcats, who had come on strong to win the Section 9, crown from Bessemer in a playoff game, never found themselves at New Kensington.

Their normally strong defense made 10 errors and pitcher Don Parks made both of the losers safe hits off Allen of West Deer. The sluggers never started.

The West Deer team dented the plate 6 times in the first two innings. Most of these runs were unearned but the spirit had gone from the Wildcats.

The summary: R. H. E. West Deer . . . 241 000 4—11 9 1 Shenango . . . 000 000 0—0 2 10 Batteries: West Deer—Allen and Parks and Getchy.

of starting Tommy Travers at Youngstown. Willie Jefferson will go in the first game Sunday and Herbie Churchill in the nightcap.

Frank Wagner and Johnny Brown will more than likely get the Monday double-header assignment at Johnstown. New Castle hopes to be considerably improved in the standing when they arrive in the standing when they arrive back home to play the Butler Tigers on Wednesday, June 1.

Some player help is reported enroute to New Castle from the Washington farm chain. Mike Cannavino will not be satisfied until he has a winning team here. His fondest dream is the top rung. The Nats at the moment are shooting for the first division.

It is, at least, within the realm of possibility that trainer John Gaver will pitch a one hitter before the anticipated big crowd this afternoon.

Arco Riding

Little One Hitter may or may not figure seriously, that would seem to depend on whether Fred Hooper's Olympia can carry his great speed over a mile and a quarter.

If the colt that disappointed so many so grievously in the derby ever is going to run over that much ground and win, this surely would be to the day for him to do it.

Even though Olympia is going to give away weight to each of his four rivals in today's test—12 pounds to Palestinian and 15 pounds to the other three—there seems to be early speed to force his pace.

Thus, if he can't successfully negotiate the mile and two furlongs today, it would seem to be doubtful that he's ever going to do so.
